The most successful companies today are those that turn knowledge and innovation into a distinct competitive advantage. With technology companies spending an average of three percent of sales on R&D, it makes good business sense to define and defend certain knowledge assets through the patent process. Once patents are obtained, innovations and ideas can be fully leveraged as business assets.

Technology, Patents & Licensing, Inc. (TPL) is an intellectual property (IP) management company that guides technology companies through the entire IP lifecycle. TPL partners with corporations to CREATE, MANAGE, LEVERAGE, and PROTECT their intellectual capital, with the goal of maximizing a company's Return On Patent Investments (ROPI).

TPL delivers a combination of marketplace and technological expertise, best practices, and specialized software, which we have developed and refined in our work in the telecommunications, Internet, and electronics industries.
